Event 7 The Rhododendron Trek Experience

Contact 01752 698751

19.00-21.00 - As part of the Ivybridge Walking Festival the Howell family are offering an evening Rhododendron Trek Experience at Lukesland Gardens, Harford. The usual garden entrance fee of £3.50 for will be charged for this event, but also included in this price will be a guided tour round the garden and an illustrated talk. The evening will start (weather-permitting) with a guided tour by John and Lorna Howell, the current owners of Lukesland, around the notable collection of rhododendrons in their 24 acre garden. This will be followed by refreshments in the Old Billiard Room and an illustrated talk by John Howell on treks through rhododendron forests in the Everest and Annapurna regions of Nepal and in remote areas of Bhutan. John Howell works as an environmental consultant in South Asia and has many fine photographs and interesting anecdotes from treks in this area across twenty years.

Advance booking is recommended for this unique evening event.

*For those wishing to walk to Lukeslands a group will leave from the Glanvilles Mill car park at 6pm. Please note it will be dark on the return.
